

Proposed Witchcraft Convictions (Pardons) (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to pardon all those convicted under the Witchcraft Act 1563.

The consultation runs from 23 June 2022 to 15 September 2022

All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document.

Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer.

All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response.

Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded.

Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here:

Aim and approach - Note: All answers to the questions in this section may be published (unless your response is "not for publication").

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

There's no doubt that regardless of the wrongdoings that were in the hands of powerful people should definitely be punished as realistically as possible, but we must be aware that the executions that were held back then killed thousands of innocent people and whatever we do now won't make them come back,

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

however if this is the best way we can ask for forgiveness to those who have lost someone because of these accusation then let it be it, and hopefully they will be rewarded respectfully.

Q2. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the proposed Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

I believe that so far legislation has had a positive and negative outcome, nevertheless we should always consider other ways of applying a rule or a law that will foresee and investigate further into a case that accuses someone of witchcraft, surely this has already been applied and shouldn't be a problem or at least I hope so. Overall what I mean with my point is that we should seek other ways, perhaps making sure that the people who have had a person be executed of witchcraft their opinion on the legislation, and another way is exactly what's being done (the survey). Another thing that could be done is, ask what people want for the wrongdoings, besides offering finance, the legislation could include other things like an option for the generations of victims, giving them the opportunity of choosing something specific within the allowed spectrum. Also maybe have every year on a certain date an event in respects of the victims as a way of apologizing for the executions and torture.

Financial Implications

Q3. Any new law can have a financial impact which would affect individuals, businesses, the public sector, or others. What financial impact do you think this proposal could have if it became law?

Unsure

Equalities

Q4. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Positive

Please explain the reasons for your response including the impact on people with particular protected characteristics

People would have a greater understanding of previous decades about the executions, there would be greater knowledge about this situation which may bring people together as they'll feel less suppressed or anxious. It won't have to be considered as a "silly" Or "out of the ordinary" Discussion, because everything matters. Victims of witchcraft (whether if they had someone involved or they were involved in something considered witchcraft) will be able to feel relieved and respected by others. Personally I feel as if when someone discusses or brings up witchcraft to the table, people tend to make fun of the topic or just completely ignore it.

Sustainability

Q5. Any new law can impact on work to protect and enhance the environment, achieve a sustainable economy, and create a strong, healthy, and just society for future generations.

Do you think the proposal could impact in any of these areas? (If you do not have a view then skip to next question)

Please explain the reasons for your answer, including what you think the impact of the proposal could be, and if there are any ways you think the proposal could avoid negative impacts?

I definitely would say that it would bring a just society for future generations. The key in here is to educate people about real situations, witchcraft in the film industry have been dramatized, I'd say that adding this to history textbooks and other platforms will definitely help with achieving the goal of *just society for future generations*

General

Q6. Do you have any other additional comments or suggestions on the proposed Bill (which have not already been covered in any of your responses to earlier questions)?
