

Proposed Witchcraft Convictions (Pardons) (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to pardon all those convicted under the Witchcraft Act 1563.

The consultation runs from 23 June 2022 to 15 September 2022

All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document.

Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer.

All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response.

Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded.

Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here:

Aim and approach - Note: All answers to the questions in this section may be published (unless your response is "not for publication").

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill? (Please note that this question is compulsory.)

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Those accused and those convicted of the Crime of Witchcraft suffered a clear miscarriage of Justice because the crime they were accused of were impossible. For example: a person could not cast a spell so that they could make a cow fly, in order that they might ride on it from one village to another. Even if they imagined they had done so, in reality, it was impossible.

Q2. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the proposed Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

I think Parliament should simply rule on the subject. Scotland is in a unique position to be able to help those accused of Witchcraft today, across the globe. People are accused, tortured, mutilated and killed for the crime of Witchcraft to this day. Scotland's Parliament and First Minister recognising Witchcraft as an impossible crime and legally pardoning those accused, would help organisations worldwide have Witchcraft recognised as an impossible crime.

Financial Implications

Q3. Any new law can have a financial impact which would affect individuals, businesses, the public sector, or others. What financial impact do you think this proposal could have if it became law?

no overall change in costs

Please explain the reasons for your answer.

I cannot see why the Bill should increase costs.

Equalities

Q4. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Positive

Please explain the reasons for your response including the impact on people with particular protected characteristics

This would have a huge impact on the way women and people deemed as 'other' or minorities were treated, especially if an educational campaign followed. People on the fringes of our Society, people with mental health issues, the disabled, women, ethnic minorities, immigrants, the elderly, addicts, all men of people in Scotland, could benefit from this legislation. Advocates and Politicians, Support workers and Teachers could demonstrate what happened to those deemed 'different' in the past and show where speaking ill of our fellow citizens can ultimately lead. Gossip and backbiting within Society breeds suspicion, mistrust and fear, which often leads to persecution. We need Bills such as this and education to show people that we must build a more compassionate Society.

Sustainability

Q5. Any new law can impact on work to protect and enhance the environment, achieve a sustainable economy, and create a strong, healthy, and just society for future generations.

Do you think the proposal could impact in any of these areas? (If you do not have a view then skip to next question)

Please explain the reasons for your answer, including what you think the impact of the proposal could be, and if there are any ways you think the proposal could avoid negative impacts?

See previous answer.

General

Q6. Do you have any other additional comments or suggestions on the proposed Bill (which have not already been covered in any of your responses to earlier questions)?

I simply hope very much that the Bill will succeed and demonstrate that Scotland has entered a new age of enlightenment.
